Transforming Patient Care

As a comprehensive, 3-in-1 monitoring solution, the BeneVision N1 is designed to adapt to the monitoring needs across the hospital enterprise. Serving as parameter module, transport monitor, and bedside monitor in one, the N1 provides seamless, gap-free monitoring throughout the healthcare facility, where and when it's needed. It's that simple.

N1

Healthcare providers today face many challenges in their mission to deliver quality patient care. One of the most significant is workflow complexity, out of which arises the need to work smarter. Now more than ever, clinically-focused monitoring solutions that assist in efficiently delivering high-quality patient-centric care are essential.

One Monitor | Multiple

1

Versatile Bedside Monitor

Practical yet sophisticated with an uncluttered view of patient information, N1 paired with the 22" display ideally meets the bedside monitoring needs of multiple hospital departments.

Multiple Solutions

Transport Monitor

Remove the N1 from the N-Series module bay and it converts to a wireless transport monitor. Working with your wireless network, it provides continuity of patient data with the central EMR.

3

Robust Multi-Parameter Module

Upon completing your patient's transport, insert the N1 into the integrated module bay of any N-Series bedside monitor or the satellite module rack and you are up and running with no gaps in data. The full-featured N1 multi-parameter module provides robust monitoring capabilities to suit acuity levels throughout the hospital.
